Change In Interlibrary Loan Statistics

The Interlibrary Loan Department will be changing the method we use to track interlibrary loan statistics. Beginning on July 1, 2021, we will discontinue tracking interlibrary loan stats by individual library. Therefore, libraries will need to keep track of their own interlibrary loan statistics for annual reporting purposes.

Going Once, Going Twice . . . You Are Not Going to Want to Miss It

What questions do you have when you think of Strategic Planning? The second phase of the IMLS Framing the Future grant is about to begin. It will answer your questions and offer more to think about when implementing strategic planning at the library. The workshop is set for Tuesday, June 1, from 2:00-3:30.

This workshop is for potential facilitators who are taking part in the next grant phase, anyone who attended the first EDI phase, and any library staff and trustees who want to engage more with planning. You heard correctly; trustees may attend, so extend the invitation.

Staff from the Minnesota-based Library Strategies will be sharing their expertise. Their community-driven plan will better prepare small and rural libraries as they face the ever-changing landscape and reaffirm the library's status as vital centers of their communities.

We need you to register at the link below. The presenters are asking you to fill out a pre-strategic planning survey also included below. This information will help them better tailor their presentation to specifically North Dakota libraries.

New PAC Tutorial

A new tutorial was recently created and uploaded to the North Dakota State Library's YouTube channel. Requesting Materials That Are Not Found in the PAC (Interlibrary Loan) gives an overview on how to submit an Interlibrary Loan (ILL) request to the North Dakota State Library.

Since there is no longer a blank form for submitting requests, this tutorial outlines several ways to find materials not located in the Polaris PAC and how you can request them via e-mail, FirstSearch, or the Ask Us feature.

As always, you can call us with your interlibrary loan requests at 1-800-472-2104 or 701-328-4622, Monday through Friday, 8:00 AM - 4:00 PM CST.
